

Calderdale's Emotional Health and Wellbeing Service Guide For Families

Calderdale's Emotional Health and Wellbeing Service Guide

This service guide has been written by parents and professionals working together. It has been developed to support families whose children and young people are experiencing emotional health and wellbeing difficulties.

For further information, please visit Calderdale's emotional health and wellbeing website, Open Minds www.openmindscalderdale.org.uk

This website provides advice, information, support and signposting on local and national emotional health and wellbeing services that help children and young people who are going through a difficult time.

Please note that this information is current at the time of going to print in September 2018.

Kooth.com

Cost: This is a free service

Kooth is a safe, confidential and anonymous online counselling support service for young people age 11–25 years. It is free at the point of need and available through a smart phone, tablet or computer. Kooth helps to reduce wait times for young people seeking help and removes stigma around mental health. The team of accredited counsellors, therapists and support workers provide guided and outcome-focused support for each individual.

Young people have access online to qualified counsellors up to 10pm and are available 365 days a year to talk through their worries.

Any child or young person aged 11-25 can go online and self-refer. As a parent you are encouraged to visit the website for further information about Kooth.
